

HEI Engineering Group Spotlight

Stacey Lloyd, senior associate at HEI Engineering Group, has been in the HVAC industry for 24 years and integral part of the firm since 2004. She has been registered in the State of Ohio since 2001. In addition to HVAC design, Stacey is responsible for energy modeling, geothermal well-field sizing, temperature control diagrams & sequences.

Hometown: Clarks Summit, PA (small town just northwest of Scranton, PA)
 Spouse: Married her high school sweetheart, Dan, in June 1996
 Children: 14 year old son, Andrew, who appears to have musical talent - plays trumpet in the high school marching band and electric guitar
 College Education: BS in Architectural Engineering from Penn State University in 1996
 1st Engineering Job: RG Vanderweil Engineers, a large MEP firm in Boston, MA

Stacey lives in Lexington, Ohio. She likes to relax by taking late evening walks with the family dog, Pumpkin, who is a cattle dog/boxer mix (our 1st rescue pet). She also enjoys bike riding along the local B & O trails. Weekends are often spent working on DIY house projects together with her husband.

Favorite Vacation: Utah – Hiking thru Zion National Park
 Favorite Pastime: Boating & Fishing
 Favorite Food: Pizza (actually anything Italian)
 Favorite Music: 1990's Grunge (Audio Slave, Pearl Jam, Nirvana)

Stacey and her family are looking forward to a 2-week trip to Ireland/Scotland planned for July 2021
